The ATT technical team have won the silver award in the Best Association Team category at the 2023 Association Excellence Awards.

The award was collected by technical officer David Wright at a ceremony in central London on 3 November.

In awarding the prize, the judges, made up of a panel of chief executives from a range of trade and professional associations, said that the Technical Team ‘appear to be delivering much from a small team’ and ‘are clearly punching above their weight’.

Other finalists at the awards included CIOT for Best New Event by an Association for the Diploma in Tax Technology Launch Webinar, and ATT and CIOT jointly for Best Association Newsletter or Magazine (circulation over 25,000) for Tax Adviser magazine.
